

Storylines Notable Book Awards 2019

Call for Entries

Storylines invites submissions to the Storylines Notable Book Awards 2018. Please consider the Conditions of Entry below and complete an entry form for each submission.

The closing date is 30 November 2018.

Since 2000 Storylines has presented its Notable Book Awards to recognise outstanding books for children and young people published in New Zealand during the previous calendar year. This annual list ensures that children, parents/grandparents, teachers, librarians and the public are made aware of the large range of high quality books being published by New Zealand authors, illustrators and publishers.

Books are categorised as: Picture Book, Junior Fiction, Young Adult Fiction, Non-Fiction and Te Reo Māori. Up to ten awards are made in each category, selected by expert panels from the Storylines community.

These panels include librarians, authors, illustrators, teachers and academics; several members have served as judges for the New Zealand Post Children's Book Award (and under its previous sponsor AIM) and the LIANZA Book Awards.

Conditions of Entry:

- Entries are open to books written in English or te reo Māori on first publication in print or as e-books in New Zealand. The 2018 Awards are open to books published between 1 January 2018 and 31 December 2018.
- Principal authors (and principal illustrators of books with significant illustrative content: picture books and photographic non-fiction) must be normally resident in New Zealand and be New Zealand citizens by birth, naturalisation or immigration, or hold Permanent Residency status for TWO years at the closing date for submissions. New Zealand citizens or Permanent Residents as defined here, but who are living overseas temporarily, are eligible if their absence has been for no more than TWO consecutive years at the closing date for submissions.
- Books in English or te reo Māori (from mainstream/independent publishers or self-published) must have a print run of no less than 500 copies and be available to the public for sale through normal retail outlets and/or online. E-books should be widely available online at the time of submission.
- In the Te Reo Māori category, books written originally in te reo Māori (or bilingual in the same book) must have a print run of no less than 500 copies and be available to the public for sale through normal retail outlets and/or online. School readers should be readily available to schools and early childhood centres.
- Entries of junior and young adult fiction must contain 48 pages or more, non-fiction must contain 36 pages or more and picture books must contain at least 24 pages.

- Books by individual or multiple authors, including anthologies, are eligible if they meet the judging criteria. Anthologies must contain sufficient new work to meet the criteria for a book in its own right.
- Books published with the assistance of grants or subsidies are eligible.
- Books will be accepted as e-book-only publications [i.e. no print edition exists]. Where both e-book and print book are available the print book should be submitted.
- E-books will not be in a separate category but will be judged alongside print editions of the same category.
- An e-book submitted must have originated as an e-book. An e-book created out of an earlier print book is not eligible.
- A book entered for the Awards must be a single, stand-alone entry.
- Series or boxed sets are not considered as single, stand-alone book entries, and are therefore not eligible, unless submitted as individual titles.
- Reprints and re-issues of previously published works are not eligible.
- Books published primarily for an educational market (e.g. textbooks, resource kits, literacy texts, reading schemes etc.) are not eligible.
- Books by deceased authors or illustrators are not eligible for entry unless the death occurred after the book has been submitted.

The closing date for entries is 30 November 2018.

The entry fee is $30 per title (including GST).

For print books TWO copies of the submitted title are required. For e-books, please provide details on Entry Form to enable access. Once the judging process has been completed Storylines will use your submitted copies to promote the work they do in schools and libraries, and to thank Storylines members for their support.

The Storyline Notable Book judging panels reserve the right to invite submissions. No correspondence regarding the Awards will be entered into.

While entries close 30 November we encourage you to immediately submit titles already published since 1 January, and other titles as they are published. If submitting in November please do so as early as possible to avoid late arrival due to postal or courier delays.

If in doubt regarding the eligibility of a book, author or illustrator, please seek clarification by emailing childlitnz@storylines.org.nz
